

Auberge Saint-Martin

In the winter, walkers can warm up in front of the fireplace in the typically Ardennes tavern or enjoy a fresh beer or a snack on one of the two terraces in summer.

The guests in half board enjoy a three course meal in the restaurant. Other guests can choose from the restaurant menu. The menu is varied and changes following the seasons.

The family De Paepe – Marreel wishes you all very welcome in their hotel, restaurant and tavern. Caroline receives and serves the guests, whereas Guido prepares delicious meals.

The hotel has known a complete renovation; all of our rooms are foreseen from all necessary comfort to make your stay as nice as possible.

There is a wide variety of recreation in this area: 53 walking routes, 8 mountain bike circuits, “La Route de Maquis” (resistance monuments) of 170 km and 3 cross-country skiing tracks with possibility to rent the equipment.

The Auberge has now eight rooms and can accommodate 20 people. We have a single room, double rooms and triple and quadruple family rooms. The quadruple rooms have two separate bedrooms.

Orchimont: A rich past

Orchimont is a small village in the district of Vresse-sur-Semois in the province of Namur. About a hundred people still live there. The village is located two kilometers north of the center of Vresse and the stream "La Semois" near the French border. The hamlet Hérisson also belongs to Orchimont.

Orchimont (etymologically it means "Mountain of the Bears") had during the Middle Ages the status of city surrounded by ramparts and defended by a castle. In 1635, the army of Louis XIII invaded the Spanish Netherlands. On May 11, Orchimont fell and the castle was destroyed and never rebuilt. The construction of a road in 1878 destroyed even more the historical site. A renovated tower is the only thing remaining of the site.
